

NEW ONLINE GIVEAWAYS LAUNCHED BY EQUINE PRODUCTS UK

Equine Products UK is launching a new interactive section on its website at www.equineproducts-ukltd.com that will include regular online giveaways of its most popular products, together with seasonal feeding advice and news from top international riders who choose nutritional supplements from Equine Products UK, including eventers Ruth Edge and Alex Hua-Tian and show jumper Simon Buckley.

The first giveaway opens online on May 1 and will feature Selenavite E, a balanced, broad spectrum supplement that provides 22 micronutrients, including vitamins, minerals, trace elements and amino acids, to healthy horses and ponies literally all over the world.

With over 25 years of experience, Equine Products UK is a name trusted by professionals who rely on the company's proven track record of using the latest research to ensure its formulations are enviably effective. Selenavite E is manufactured in the company's fully licensed UK manufacturing facility and ideal for easy, everyday use.

So if you would like to feed all the benefits of Selenavite E, visit www.equineproducts-ukltd.com, enter the free giveaway and you could win a 1.5kg tub of Selenavite E to get you started! All the information you need to join in is online now.
